A: What were you doing at 3:30 in the afternoon on Friday?
B: At 3:30 in the afternoon on Friday I was riding the bus.

Extension: find out what you and your partner were doing at the same time
“At 3:30 in the afternoon on Friday I was riding the bus while Janelle was checking her email.”

Poker Chips

“You said that you watched a movie last night, right?”
“Right!”

Materials: 6 poker chips per pair
SWBAT: Ask and answer questions while showing active listening and equal turn taking.
Students push forward and touch poker chips as they ask and answer questions. It can be done to practice many different language functions and grammar points.

For example, here it can be used to practice simple past:
Student A: What did you do last night?
Student B: Last night I VERB2
Student A: Uh-huh (touch chips)
3X
Student B: What did I say?
Student A: You said that you VERB2, right?
Student B: Right/Not exactly. Try again.

To practice phrasal verbs or verb + gerund/infinitive:
A: What are three things you put off doing last night?
B: Last night I put off doing my homework. > uh-huh
Last night I put off cleaning my room. > uh-huh
Last night I put off going to the gym. > uh-huh
What did I say? > You said that you...

To practice adjective vocabulary:
A: What are three things that make you nervous/happy/sad/homesick/etc.?
B: One thing that makes me nervous is _____________ > uh-huh
Another thing that makes me nervous is _____________ > uh-huh
The last thing that makes me nervous is___________ > uh-huh
What did I say? > You said that you...

2. Stack of Chips
Materials: 10 poker chips per pair
SWBAT: Ask and answer follow-up questions while showing active listening and equal turn taking.

A student begins with a dialogue with a yes/no question. Taking turns back and forth, students ask and answer follow-up who/why/when/here/how question, each time adding a poker chip to the pile.

Beach Balls

1. Verb tense cycle
Materials: one beach ball per pair
SWBAT: Use irregular verbs accurately in simple continuous, simple present, simple past, present perfect, and the future.
Student pass the ball back and forth to make sentences with the key verb in 5 verb tenses. Each sentence uses an appropriate time indicator. They keep going around the verb tense cycle until the teacher cues the next. It’s a fun way to drill. The teacher may also insert discussion questions between each verb tense cycle to practice using the verb in different tenses.

2. The writing on the beach ball
Materials: one beach ball per pair
SWBAT: Ask and answer questions unanticipated questions in a group
Students pass the ball back and forth. Wherever the student’s left thumb lands, the student uses the language cue to ask a question.

“What’s your favorite food?” “What are you going to do next week?”
